The subscribed user can, whenever necessary, revoke the subscription to the newsletter service by clicking on the specific link contained in the emails received.

Privacy Policy concerning ART.13 European Regulation GDPR 679/2016 regarding personal data treatment - NEWSLETTER

Dear Visitor,

With the subscription to the newsletter service you agree to accept the personal data treatment conditions contained in the present informative document.

In accordance with article n.13 of the European Regulation 679/2016, relating to the protection of people and other subjects in reference to their personal data, all information will be handled respecting the principles of honesty, legitimacy and transparency, protecting your privacy and your rights.

In accordance with what has been mentioned above, we are providing you with the following information.

1. All information supplied to FREZZA S.P.A., the controller, will be used for the following purposes:
  - a. Manage your subscription to our newsletter and send newsletter related communications
2. Personal data treatment will be carried out both with information technology systems and manual work, conducted by a designated team. All data will be stored in our company's digital and hardcopy archives and, for services managed in cloud computing and treatments entrusted to third parties, in European territory.
3. With reference to the treatment mentioned above, knowledge and memorization of all personal data is necessary (obligatory fields marked with an asterisk). The potential refusal to supply this information will imply a failed or partial execution of the request.
4. Data will not be object of diffusion to third parties.
5. All personal data supplied by you could be subject matter of communications to other companies exclusively for the management of our newsletter services and for the fulfilment of law duties as contained in the privacy policy that regulates our present web site.
6. All personal data supplied by you will be treated and stored for the management of your subscription to our newsletter. Only further to your explicit cancellation request your personal data will be eliminated or transformed to an anonymous form.
7. The controller is: FREZZA S.P.A. via ferret 9/11 – 31020 Vidor (TV)
8. You have the right to always exercise your rights towards the controller (in accordance to art.15 and ss. of the European Regulation GDPR 679/2016 that we have reproduced entirely for your information) by contacting us via our email info@frezza.com.
